Listening to Embody Music with J. Bouey

CLASS DESCRIPTION:

In this class, we will become one with the music. By listening to music like musicians, and allowing our bodies to our own musical instruments, we can explore many new possibilities within our current practices and techniques. This class will be most beneficial for people who confidently within, through, and without dance "techniques" as this is an improvisation-based practice greatly influenced by Punking and Waacking performance practices. All expressions of movement are encouraged to participate. Let's JAM!

BIO:

J. Bouey is out here doing their best, damnit! Currently moving on pandemic timing and prioritizing rest, J. is finding their way back to joy. J. is the founder of The Dance Union Podcast, a recent 2021-2022 Jerome Fellow, and is a current Movement Research Artist in Residence. J. Bouey was most recently a Gibney Spotlight artist, Artist-In-Residence at CPR – Center for Performance Research, and 2021 Bogliasco Fellow. J. was also a 2018 Movement Research Van Lier Fellow, and former dancer with Bill T. Jones/Arnie Zane Company. Determined to manifest the dreams dreamt in their youth, J. is assuming this responsibility because these dreams sustained them when the sun didn't shine or shined too bright to see.
