Janusphere Third Year Anniversary Season

Company: Janusphere Dance Company
Venue: Manhattan Movement and Arts Center
Location: New York, NY

JANUSPHERE's program features Danielle Genest's Semblance (a sublime synthesis of music and movement evoking themes of personal identity and human contact) and from artistic director Darion Smith, Orion's View (a choreographic journey navigating western astrology) and Sidewalk Slice! (a funky fun ride through an outrageous cityscape). Performances will feature music from Gabriel Faure, Reinhold Heil, Jonathon Pratt, and costumes from Christina A. Gianinni. Janusphere dancers epitomize energy and precision as they lead audiences into dramatically-choreographed dancescapes. Janusphere resident/guest choreographers make innovative use of classical, modern and contemporary themes and styles. As noted by Jennifer Dunning of the New York Times "these dancers stand out for their long, clean classical ballet line..." 40 tickets per show will be given away to help make this event more accessible. Free tickets note: The free tickets are on a first come first serve basis.
