Fly-by-Night Dance Theater announces their 9th NYC Aerial Dance Festival. The performances will feature Aerial Dancers on a variety of apparatus including: harness, trapeze, rope, canes, lyra, silks, and hammock. Threading the evening together will be the acclaimed performer Akim Funk Buddha, a multi-faceted performance artist whose music and movement will explore the areas between the floor and the air. The festival is produced as part of Fly-by-Night Dance Theater's mission to advocate for Aerial Dance as an expressive genre that encourages the blending of Concert Dance, Theater, Music, and Circus Skills.
