ABOUT ART IN THE COMMUNITY GARDEN COMMISSIONING FELLOWS PROGRAM:

Through the Art in the Community Garden Commissioning Fellows Program, artists will receive a commission to create an experimental, rigorous, and thought-provoking site-based work for a NYC community garden. LEIMAY works with gardens located in the Lower East Side of Manhattan and in the Williamsburg, Bedford-Stuyvesant, and Gowanus neighborhoods of Brooklyn. LEIMAY and our partner, New York Restoration Project, will work together with the artists and a community liaison to determine which community garden aligns best with the artist's vision and the needs of the community. By prioritizing the selection of artists to gardens in their home community or geographic interest, Art in the Community Garden Commissioning Fellows Program will foster a local exchange that facilitates an intermingling of art and nature, and a cross-pollination of artists and community members.

This Commissioning Fellows Program nurtures a half-year long creative research period for 6 artists on an annual basis. It provides an arena for artistic exploration, professional development, and public outreach to a local community of movement-based artists with an interdisciplinary practice who seek a space to create and share their work in a supportive environment.

Additionally, LEIMAY provides artists with space to work alongside a community of peers who support each other through artistic feedback and an ongoing discussion about the value of process and practice as a means of nurturing collaboration and the advancement of craft within multiple fields.

SELECTED ARTISTS RECEIVE:

Up to 60 hours of fully subsidized studio time during a 6-month period (Commissioned fellows do not incur in any membership costs and will book their own hours through our online booking system.)

Presentation of an outdoor public performance as part of the OUTSIGHT presenting series in a community garden co-presented by LEIMAY and the New York Restoration Project (NYRP).

A stipend for the presentation of new work at the OUTSIGHT series.

Opportunities to participate in peer showings to engage in conversation around your work with other commissioned artists and LEIMAY Artistic Directors.

Access to Material for the Arts supplies.

The inclusion of commissioned fellows activities in LEIMAY's email newsletter and online publication/network (conectom).

Discounts for performances presented by LEIMAY at other venues and to LEIMAY LUDUS Classes, Labs, and Intensives.

LEIMAY has applied for additional funding support for this program and there is a possibility for higher commissioning fees. A $100 fee is guaranteed but if we are awarded funding, it could increase up to 150%.
