We're bringing Bali to New York. Anyone interested to learn balinese dance and gamelan? We are holding Balinese Dance and Gamelan Workshop on:

Saturday, February 24, 2024

11.00 AM - 01.00 PM

Indonesian Consulate General in New York, 5 E 68th St, NY 10065

This workshop will be led by

Ida Ayu Ari Candrawati – Master Balinese Dancer

Ibu Candra began dancing the challenging "Pelegongan" repertoire at age seven under the renowned teacher Cok Istri Agung of Singapadu village. Her professional dancing career began with the Sadha Budaya group of Ubud, Indonesia in 1982. In 1992 she graduated from the Indonesian National Arts Conservatory in Denpasar, Bali. She has performed in international tours in Asia and Europe. From 1995-2000 she danced with the ARMA ensemble, Kumara Sari, and in 1999 choreographed a new work that was performed at the island-wide Bali Arts Festival. She is now the dance director of Gamelan Padma Bhuana New York, and teaches Dance classes at the Indonesian Consulate in New York City. Ibu Candra is well known in the Indonesian community in the US for her masterful dancing and excellent teaching abilities, using teaching techniques she learned in Bali.
