Simantikos Dance Chicago is going on its first tour, and what better place to start than New York? We're kicking off this tour with a four-hour improvisation/composition workshop for only $15 (or $20 at the door)!

This workshop will include a 30 minute Simantikos warm-up class, 30 minutes of led improvisation, 45 minutes of an (entire) group compositional process, and 45 minutes of a (small) group compositional process. It will culminate in an informal performance that anyone is welcome to come and enjoy for free! Not only will participants have an opportunity to show the day's work, but they will also walk away with photo/video taken by the photographer and videographer we will have on site.

Come connect with Simantikos and your fellow NY dancers in this unique collaborative performance opportunity!
