If the registration fee is a financial barrier for you, please email info@robertmoseskin.org. We will be happy to provide a discount code so the workshop is accessible to you.

Robert Moses will coach as former RMK dancers Amy Foley and Bliss Kohlmyer lead participants through excerpts from Moses' 2007 work "Lucifer's Prance." This online program is designed for intermediate/advanced and professional dancers wanting to immerse themselves in intensive training. Each participant will take part in a rigorous process designed to provide dancers with practical performance and creative approaches to stage presentation, while learning repertory from one of Robert Moses' seminal works. The workshop is recommended for disciplined dancers and movers interested in exploring Moses' approach to choreographic work and sharpening their performance representation.
