Rally For Red is an evening dance concert benefit for the national organization Take Back The Night.

On February 4th 2016 at 8pm in the Muriel Schulman theater at Triskelion Arts in Brooklyn, five NYC based choreographers and their companies will Rally together for an evening of awareness.

Take Back The Night is a national organization fighting to eradicate sexual violence in all forms. As part of Curet Performance Projects fourth season the company will produce a philanthropic project in conjunction with the organization.

Five different works moving around the grieving process, present telling and bold works in honor of victims everywhere. Funds from this evening benefit go directly to the organization.

Join us as we all Rally For Red and fight against sexual violence all across America.

Featured live original music by: Idan Morim.
