Portrait on the Fly at the Digital Art Biennial

Evenings of May 8th-11th will feature a free 10 minute See Sound Pop-Up Performance in the Live Arts lobby gallery. Created by Rama Allen and the creative team at The Mill, a different singer/vocalist will perform every night in See Sound; a generative artwork experience that creates sound sculptures based on the human voice. Each user has access to a microphone and hardware interface. Triggering different visual behaviors within the music visualizer based on experimentation, each user leaves with their own bespoke sound sculpture. The resulting media can be sent to each user immediately afterwards.
