In the history of dance and music, a few things remain constant, most important, being the necessity of one another. There is no relationship like the one between a dancer and a musician. We see it in Jazz, in Hip Hop, in the Ballet and even on Broadway. We have contact improv and even jam sessions for musicians. So where is the haven for the two to come together?

SESSIONS IN BETWEEN Seeks to do just that, offer a space for movers, grovers and makers of all backgrounds and training to come together to inspire, create and collaborate.

What would it be like if point found itself in the cross fires of an MC battle? What if bebop and tap were reunited? And what if.... more?

The possibilities of music and movement have and always will be endless, so why not give them a home to come back to?

The once a month open jam session would offer a collaboration space for musicians and movers to improv together. The event is a 5$ donation.

The do's and do not rules.

DO

Make movement Make music
Make connections Make collaborations Make noise

Make art
Share the event
Play an instrument and move your body at all times.

DO NOT

Damage the space
Leave trails (all garbage must go with)
Create hostility (a safe haven means safe haven)
Disrespect one another's craft OR creation (come and share) Smoke on premises

So come join the movement and lets create a community together.
