Stephen Petronio Class

As part of the Stephen Petronio Company's final season, the Company will be offering monthly open rehearsals and free classes this spring and summer.

Class is a rigorous movement practice that begins with a warm-up that guides participants through an intimate connection to their unique physicality. Emphasis is placed on the articulation of the spine, the opening of the joints, and the direction and flow of energy throughout the body and into space. This preparation is followed by learning phrase material from the Company's repertory that embodies dynamic sequencing and polyrhythmic initiation within complex architectural forms. Recommended for professional dancers.

An open rehearsal will follow class each day.

Thursdays: May 1, May 29, and June 26

Open Class: 1:00-2:30pm

Open Rehearsal: 2:45-3:45pm

Space is limited. Advanced registration recommended. Registration will open two weeks prior to each class/rehearsal.
