This Fall we bring you two world premieres, Bamboo Dreams by Artistic Director Takehiro Ueyama and If You Find Yourself Missing by Associate Director Jill Echo as well as a revival of 10/18/2022, a requiem for our late board member James Kraft choreographed by Take.

Bamboo Dreams is inspired by the music of Japanese Composer, Ryuichi Sakamoto, one of Take's favorite composers since his teenage days in Japan. With the recent passing of Mr. Sakamoto, this seemed like the perfect time to pay homage and create new work with music from the pioneering composer who has touched so many and will continue to do so for generations to come. Bamboo Dreams is paired with 10/18/22, both memories of inspirational Men in Take's life.

If You Find Yourself Missing is an exploration of how we stay connected to our spirit as we move in the world. Text and dance combine to express the story of lost and found.

Takehiro Ueyama, Artistic Director

Jill Echo, Associate Director
