Feeling isolated in your creative process?

Want to get involved in projects and artistic collaboration?

New to the city and looking to connect with like-minded creatives?

Let the Artsy Hookup help you out!

Two resources for artists and creative people, CREATIVE FRIDAYS & THE ARTSY YENTA, are coming together to create a social networking happy hour for artists.

Although many creative people can get comfortable working solo, we recognize that some of the best work happens when great minds come together.

Are you a choreographer looking for the right lighting designer? A visual artist wanting to feature your work in performance settings? A dancer or singer wanting to share your talents?

Join us and find your match.

The evening will include:

a fun, social atmosphere
raffle prizes and giveaways
guided activities to help you connect:

Shandoah, The Artsy Yenta, will lead a networking component which resembles 'speed dating' but for your creative connections where guests will have the opportunity to meet everyone who is there and have brief encounters which could lead to lasting artistic collaborations!

Jess, of Creative Fridays, will lead a writing and inner connection component that will help you get clear on your message and intentions to help you make the most of the evening.

Get out of your bubble and let's make stuff happen.

Brought to you by:

&

CREATIVE FRIDAYS: Your weekly boost for inspiration & motivation on your creative path. "The end of the week is where you start."

About the Founders:

[Shandoah]

Shandoah Goldman is a Brooklyn based Choreographer, founder of THE ARTSY YENTA and the artistic director of Carte Blanche Performance, a creative company performing in multifaceted contexts. Her mission is to create works which offer an avant-garde framework for contemporary performance. Complete freedom is embodied in the name Carte Blanche, implying a desire to push the boundaries and possibilities of what one can experience during a performance, event, or advertising campaign.
