Triskelion Arts is pleased to present new work by Nora Petrolunas/The Pharmacy Project this September in the Muriel Schulman Theater. The Pharmacy Project would like to draw attention to the fact that we, humans, all come from the same place. "exhibit" brings awareness to the idea of "reverse evolution". Some of our behaviors have evolved, while others are the same as our earliest ancestors. This theatrical duet, is inspired by the dawn of man, when life was less complicated, and complex emotions were only just beginning to form. Directed by Nora Petrolunas and performed by Amber Morgan and Lindsay Lee.
