Evan Davis

Join us for an exhilarating evening as SteLi Dance proudly presents Two-gether, an extraordinary collaborative performance. At the heart of this event is the premiere of our newest work "Two," a series of duets representing the profound power of human connection and support for mental, physical, and environmental health.

Inspired by the transformative journeys of our "Into-You-I-See Workshop," which we have been offering to the community since 2021, the SteLi Dance pieces showcased in "Two-gether" are being meticulously crafted using this unique workshop as a foundation for experimentation, research, and artistic exploration.

To kick off this evening, we have the privilege of welcoming five exceptional guest artists/companies, each of whom has expanded upon their own creative works to present their unique interpretations of "Two." This show is not just a debut of "Two;" it's a gathering of creative minds delving into the depths of this concept together.
