Dates: November 15th, 12:30pm-2:00:pm
Location: 100 Grand St #2, NY 10013

Contemporary-open level

Description:

Haley's class focuses on play, experimentation, and process as product. We begin with journal prompts and move into guided and task based warm ups working from the floor to standing. We will introduce the use of our voice through dance theater prompts and games. The culminating movement phrase will be offered as a creative experiment to explore.

Bio:

Haley Morgan Miller is an interdisciplinary artist based in Brooklyn, NY. She observes the existence of movement in all things from nature to technology – gentle choreographies of time passing. Sensitive to these patterns, her creations derive digital realms and physical apparitions to zoom in on emotional entanglements, stories, and inquiries. Haley is a creative director and co-producer of Fabled Narcissism arts events. Her media art and creative technology has been presented at Art She Says, Rubulad, and Paraffin. Haley's choreography has been shown at Movement Research, Christina Noel & The Creature, Fabled Narcissism, Marinnovators Science and Technology Festival, and Vision Series Festival. She has presented films at Anyplace Anytime Online Dance Film Festival by Cross Move Lab, FRAMES Virtual Festival hosted by Collective Exchange, and Saint Bimbo's Film Church. Haley is a company member with sarAika movement collective, and Chloe Kastner Dance Company. She was pleased to perform at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival 2022. As an AR filter creator she has designed for fashion brands, musicians, dance companies, tattoo artists, and events. Haley graduated summa cum laude with a BFA in Contemporary Dance from The Boston Conservatory at Berklee, where she performed work by Mark Morris, Juel D. Lane, Michael Figueroa, Jun Kuribayashi.
