

February, 26-28, 2016

Keely Garfield Dance: Pow

Company: Keely Garfield Dance
Venue: Bittenwieser Hall
Location: New York, NY

► Share | Print | Download

92nd Street Y Harkness Dance Festival Presents Keely Garfield Dance's Pow

Pow is a "Frankenstein" of a dance made from scraps of fear and loathing that are boldly transformed, sutured, amplified and left to run amok, creating a brave new version of events.

Pow is a procession of intimate narratives about monsters and angels, and monstrous angels. It's a Frankenstein of a performance in which elements of acclaimed dances Garfield has made are radically reconfigured, sutured, amplified and left to run amok, creating a shocking new version of events. In Pow, resilience is palpable as the performers rise to the physical challenge, emotional engagement, and complex sequential contests of the work.

The 92nd Street Y Harkness Dance Festival presents five artists over five weeks, from February 11 through March 20, 2016, including a performance for families and a photography exhibition.

Cost: $25-29

Keely Garfield Dance
1395 Lexington Ave
New York, NY, 10128
212.415.5500
<http://www.92y.org/harknessfestival>

Schedule
February 26, 2016: 8:00pm
February 27, 2016: 8:00pm
February 28, 2016: 8:00pm

< back

previous listing • next listing